Arcade

Nathan Hiltz - Guitar, Bass Pedals

Johnny Griffith - Alto & Tenor Saxophones,
Synthesizers

Neil MacIntosh - Drums

Amidst a global pandemic, GHT has come together – while apart – to craft their most unconventional and nostalgic record yet. ARCADE borrows soundscapes from classic 80s video games and movie themes, blending them with GHT's unmistakable genre-bending style. Both high-energy and unexpected, ARCADE is what happens when jazz meets the magic of childhood.

GHT maintains their offbeat style of doubling – Nathan's balletic ability to dance across the bass pedals while soloing guitar or Johnny playing all the horns in his arsenal often simultaneously – while layering on a ton of synthesizers and Neil's dynamic percussive style.

Social distancing forced the band to change the way they typically record, moving from an in person live-off-the-floor situation to tracking separately in basements and laundry rooms in Toronto, Sarnia, and Halifax.

As Johnny sums up, "this is our mid-life crisis album, I can't afford a motorcycle, but I can make music".

Arcade will be released internationally on Friday, Dec 11th on G-B Records.
